INTRODUCTION

The main purpose of this study is to help and inform Grade 7 learners of Special Curricular Program to figure out the first aid they can do when they feel sick. This project can help the learners find the cure you need. This project features the first aid for a specific discomfort, Health related school activities, and emergency contacts. The use of internet is necessary when using the website.

OBJECTIVES

01

To help the learners figure out their need for first aid.

02

To update the learners about the Health related school activities.

03

To instruct students on how to handle an emergency situation.

SCOPE AND LIMITATION

The respondents of this project are composed of 90 students from Bongabon National High School Grade-7 Special Curricular Program. The information obtained from the respondents will be used to assess the effectiveness of U-linic website.

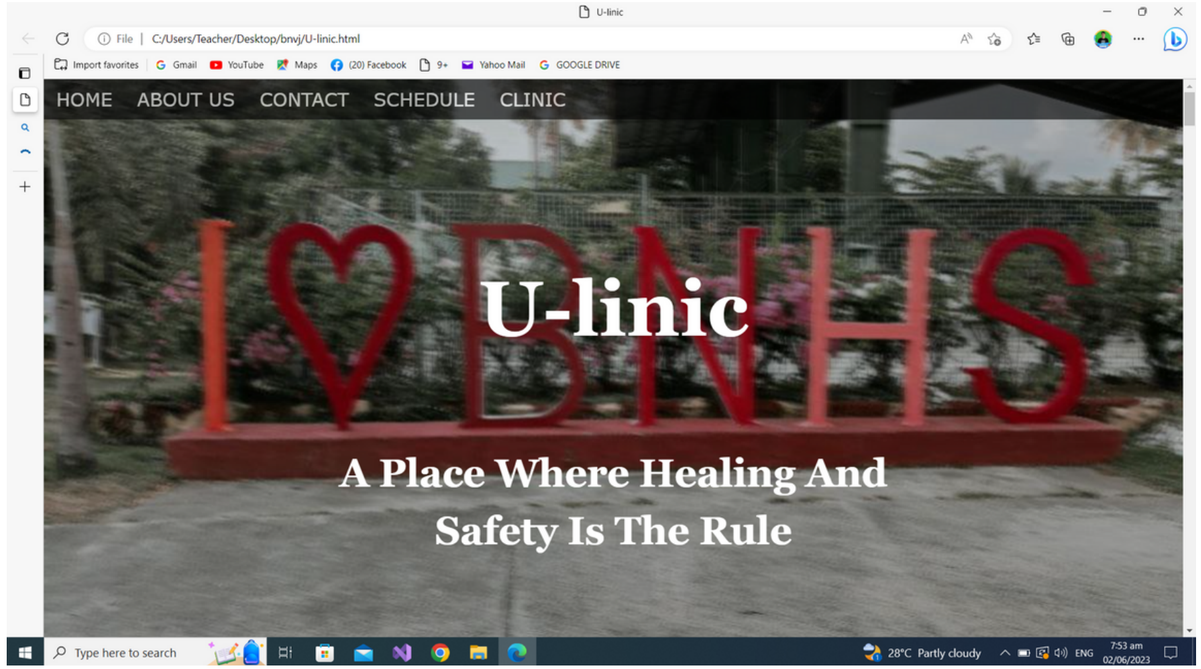
SCOPE AND LIMITATION

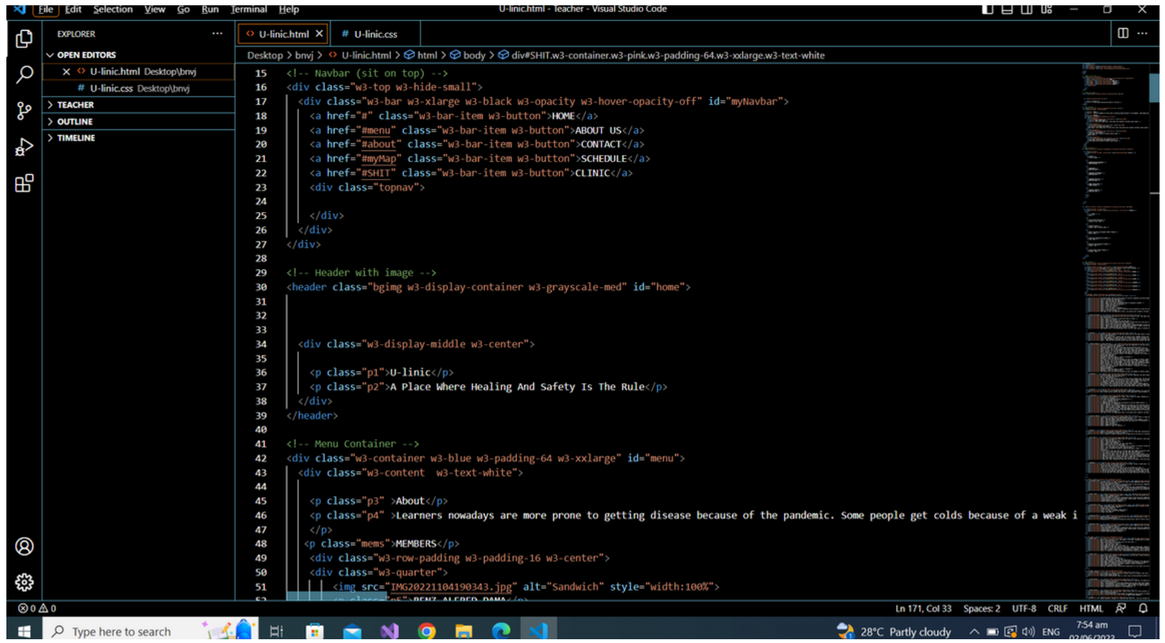
This website is free, yet it is only accessible through the link provided by the researchers, and it doesn't work on mobile devices.

DESIGN AND IMPLEMENTATION

The website provides accurate health information to students for use in the school community. It also provides first aids for the Grade 7 learners. This project also aims to bring health awareness to leaners.

INTERFACE DESIGN





VISUAL STUDIO CODE

The researchers choose to use visual studio code to create the website.

HTML

Hypertext markup language (HTML) is the programming language that the researcher used to develop the website.

CSS

The researchers used cascading style sheets language to design the interface of our website.

JAVASCRIPT

Javascript is the programming language that the developer used in building our website.

SOFTWARE DEMONSTRATION AND RESULTS

The Researchers discussed the website face-to-face with the selected learners, and Researchers distributed the link through messenger to each president of their class in each section.

ORIENTATION OF THE STUDENT RESPONDENTS

SOFTWARE DEMONSTRATION AND RESULTS

The questionnaires are divided into four sections: Distribution of the website, Interface and Environment, Usability and Accessibility, Rating Scale.

Software demonstration and results

After a week of testing, the Researchers calculated all of the questionnaire replies, which included both positive and negative comments, and found that the site had a moderately positive rating.
